Art Unit: 3744

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 4, 7, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Murphy et al. Murphy et al discloses the claimed invention, including a feeding member 71. However, Murphy et al does not disclose the feeding member to be a funnel located above the barrel. The shape and location of the feeding member are considered to be matters of obvious choice to one of ordinary skill in the art, as no criticality or unexpected results are seen or have been disclosed for the recitation of the feeding member being a funnel located above the barrel.

3. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Murphy et al in view of Lee. Murphy et al discloses the claimed invention except for the control valve. Lee teaches an ice maker having a feeding member and a control valve 3. It would be obvious to provide Murphy et al with a control valve in the feeding member, in view of Lee, for the purpose of controlling the amount of water from the feeding member.

4. Claims 2, 3, and 6 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
